PERSONAL SUMMARY

I am a hard-working and professional individual looking to move into web design after a successful career as a secondary school teacher. I am passionate about the use of front-end technologies and the use of content management systems. I have created a range of web-pages and simple apps as well as a demo WordPress website. I am keen to learn more about web development and programming and spend a great deal of time studying these subjects. Recent examples of my work can be seen at these URLs:
